Course Requirements and Assignments

Written Communication II (100W)

The California State University (CSU) junior-level writing requirement is known as the “Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement” (GWAR). At SJSU, the GWAR is satisfied by (1) passing the Writing Skills Test (WST) or passing with a “C or better” the designated 100A course or by completing the WST Directed Self Placement exercise; and (2) passing with a “C or better” (C- not accepted) the designated 100W course.

Written Communications II (100W) - Courses must develop advanced proficiency in college-level writing and appropriate contemporary research strategies and methodologies to communicate effectively to both specialized and general audiences.

Produce discipline-specific written work that demonstrates upper-division proficiency in language use, grammar, and clarity of expression. Explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively, including ideas encountered in multiple readings and expressed in different forms of discourse. Organize and develop essays and documents for both professional and general audiences. Organize and develop essays and documents according to appropriate editorial and citation standards. Locate, organize, and synthesize information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose, and to communicate that purpose in writing Assignments will total a minimum of 8000 words.

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.” (The University Policy S16-9, Course Syllabi (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf>))

Final Examination or Evaluation

Upon completion of this course students will complete an individual research paper on an Economic Topic. You can either choose from a list of Economic Topics or choose your own. The paper can either be a theoretical exploration or a statistical presentation of the topic. The research paper will consist of the following elements:

- A Paper Proposal. This is due by Wednesday, March 18, 2024. This should be 1-2 pages long, double-spaced (approximately 450-600 words). In your proposal, you need to include your research question, hypothesis, data sources, and 4-5 economic journal articles you plan to use.
- An initial literature review for your Final Paper. The literature review is due on Wednesday, April 10, 2024. This review should be between 4-6 pages long, double-spaced (approximately 1000-1500 words). This needs to have at least 10 citations in a research appropriate format. To find sources and appropriately complete your reference section, you need to attend the class Library Day. This event will be announced in class. You will add to this literature review as you progress through writing your Final Paper.
- A Final Paper Draft. This should be between 10 to 12 pages (approximately 3000-3500 words). This is a tightly organized paper, containing elements from both the proposal and literature review. The final draft needs to be checked by me by Wednesday, April 24, 2024. You will continue to improve on this draft. However, this will be the draft that you will receive comments from your peers.
- Final research paper. The final research paper is due on Monday, May 8, 2024.

In addition to the research paper students will be graded on the following:

- In-class daily journals. This will be at the beginning of each class and will be based on a prompt. It will be due by the end of class.
- In-class exercises. This will be at the end of each class and will apply the writing topics taught in class. It will be peer graded and turned in online at the end of class.
- Midterm. This will be on Monday, March 4, 2024. It will conclude the grammar portion of this course.
- Short papers and peer reviews.: On the odd weeks each person will complete a 500 word (minimum) Thought Essay on an economic topic (I will have prompts to choose from). You will need to apply economic concepts you have learned in your other classes to the prompts and analyze the topic accordingly. On the alternate weeks you complete a 200-word (minimum) peer review of the Thought Essay of three of your classmates. Peer Review will be based on a Structured Rubric that will be handed out in class. The essays and reviews will be due on Sunday night at 11:59 pm. Points will be lost for any tardiness.
- Student presentations and class peer reviews. We will spend the last five class sessions on student presentations. Attendance is required for these presentations. Every student not presenting has to submit an in-class peer review for each presentation. I will handout rubrics for you to use.

NOTE: The modules Paper Proposal, Review of the Literature, and Final Paper (all in the second half of the course) also incorporate both in-class and individual assignments.

Please plan for these due dates early. I do not accept any late work. If you do not submit these on time you can earn a zero for this component of the course.

Assignments and Grading Policy

Grading Information

Grading

This course must be passed with a C or better as an SJSU graduation requirement. These weights are fixed - improvement in other categories will not raise your grades elsewhere. Late work will not be accepted. I do not offer individual extra credit, or extensions on due dates unless you have valid documented reasons. The final grade in the course will be based on the following weights:

(<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F15-12.pdf>)

University Policies

Academic integrity

The University's Academic Integrity Policy is available at:
http://www.sa.sjsu.edu/download/judicial_affairs/Academic_Integrity_Policy_S07-2.pdf. Your own commitment to learning, as evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University and the University's integrity policy, require you to be honest in all your academic course work. Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person's ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include in your assignment any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU's Academic Policy F06-1 requires approval of instructors.

Dropping and Adding

Monday, February 19, is the last day to drop without an entry on student's permanent record. Monday, February 19, is the last day to add courses and register late. The Department Chair WILL NOT sign late add unless the University Administration (Bursar's Office, Financial Aid, Admissions) admits in writing that failure to add on time was the University's fault

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, etc. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for adding and dropping classes.
