Course Description

English 1B is the second course in SJSU's two-semester lower-division composition sequence. Beyond providing repeated practice in planning and executing essays, and broadening and deepening students' understanding of the genres, audiences, and purposes of college writing, English 1B differs from English 1A in its emphasis on persuasive and critical writing (with less attention paid to the personal essay), its requirement for fewer but longer essays, and its introduction to writing informed by research. Students will develop sophistication in writing analytical, argumentative, and critical essays; a mature writing style appropriate to university discourse; reading abilities that will provide an adequate foundation for upper-division work; proficiency in basic library research skills and in writing papers informed by research; and mastery of the mechanics of writing.

Prerequisites: Passage of Written Communication 1A (C or better) or approved equivalent.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Building on the college-level proficiencies required in English 1A, students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate advanced proficiency in all of the following:

- Clear and effective communication of meaning.
- An identifiable focus (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and will show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
- An appropriate voice that demonstrates an awareness of audience and purpose.
- Careful attention to review and revision.
- Effective and correct use of supporting materials, including independent research (e.g., quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, and citing sources);
- Effective analysis, interpretation, evaluation, and synthesis of ideas encountered in multiple readings.
- Effective organization and development of ideas at paragraph and essay levels.
- Appropriate and effective sentence structure and diction.
- Command of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Student Learning Objectives:

SLO 1: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to refine the competencies established in Written Communication 1A. Assignments: in-class essays, out-of-class essays, in-class writing exercises.

SLO 2: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to use (locate, analyze, and evaluate) supporting materials, including independent library research, and identify key concepts and terms that describe the information needed. Assignments: Library Resource Demonstration, Research and Writing exercises Weeks 1-4, Research Paper Rough and Final Drafts

SLO 3: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to select efficient and effective approaches for accessing information utilizing an appropriate investigative method or information retrieval system. Assignments: Research Paper Rough/Final Draft, Topic Proposal, Annotated Bibliography.

SLO 4: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to synthesize ideas encountered in multiple readings. Assignments: In-class essays, out-of-class essays, weekly assignments.

SLO 5: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to incorporate principles of design and communication to construct effective arguments. Assignments: In-class group presentations

SLO 6: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to identify and discuss issues related to censorship and freedom of speech. Assignments: course readings, reading responses, and classroom discussions of current events.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

Course Reader, Maple Press

O'Brien: The Things They Carried

Handbook

Handouts, both visual and textual, will be distributed by email and in hardcopy format throughout the semester. You are expected to check your email prior to coming to class.

All students will purchase a college-level dictionary and bring it to each class meeting.

Classroom Protocol

Participation is vital in completing this course. As such, students are expected to come to class having read the day's assignments and prepared to discuss them in a rigorous and academic setting. Multiple readings of a single assignment may be required to fully comprehend the meanings within it. Students are expected to be on time for class. If a student will miss a class for any reason, please email the instructor as early as possible. Use of cell phones and other electronic devices not previously authorized must be off at the start of instruction. Discussions are fast-paced and highly interactive. Students do not need to raise a hand to add to the lecture. However, common courtesy still applies.

Assignments and Grading Policy

Grading: A-F.

I require of you a workable understanding of all assigned readings and grammar exercises. The true test of your comprehension, however, will come in the form of the essays — in-class (the first will be an ungraded diagnostic essay) and out-of-class essays due at the beginning of class on the date the assignment is due. I will not accept any essay that isn't TYPED AND DOUBLE-SPACED. Late papers will NOT be accepted. Students must complete all essays to pass this course. In-class essays may not be made up without instructor permission before class. In addition to the readings and essays, there may be, at my discretion, short-answer quizzes covering reading assignments. The quizzes will count toward your participation grade and cannot be made up.

Readings: You will be assigned readings from the CA text. You are expected to have read the selection(s) prior to the class period. Come to class ready to offer your opinions and ask questions. I expect full class participation with regard to the course readings.

Grading:

In-class essays(2000 words)	25%
Research Paper	30%
Topic Proposal	CR/NCR
Annotated Bibliography (500 words)	CR/NCR
First Draft (1500-1750 words)	1/2
Revised Draft (2000-2500 words)	1/2
Analytical Essay (1500-2000 words)	15%
Department final exam (500-750 words)	20%
Participation (oral and written)	10%

Final grades will be computed by averaging the above percentages. CR/NCR assignments are worth a full letter grade on the research paper's revised draft. The class grading scale is as follows:

- 99-100: A+
- 93-98: A
- 90-92: A-
- 88-89: B+
- 82-87: B
- 80-81: B-
- 78-79: C+
- 72-77: C
- 70-71: C-
- 65-69: D
- <65: F

No late papers will be accepted under any circumstances.

Under certain circumstances, and regardless of the percentage points listed above, a student's contributions and academic curiosity (or lack thereof) may influence that student's final grade beyond the listed scope. In other words, students who do not come to class and regularly participate in discussions may find their final grade significantly reduced to reflect the full scope of class involvement. An "A" grade requires more than good essay-writing.

Assignments and Grading Policy

Grading: A-F.

In English Department courses, instructors will comment on and grade the quality of student writing as well as the quality of ideas being conveyed. All student writing should be distinguished by correct grammar and punctuation, appropriate diction and syntax, and well-organized paragraphs.

Grading Policy: The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the official SJSU catalog ("The Grading System"). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A=excellent; B=above average; C=average; D=below average; and F=failure.

In this class, a "C" grade is writing to the minimum expectations of the professor. Each student begins with a "C" grade at the beginning of the semester. That grade may increase or decrease depending on the quality of work presented over the course of the semester.

Papers handed in late will receive "credit" for completing the assignment, but the grade will be averaged as a zero for that assignment.
